BAL-A-VIS-X Coming in

September 11, 12 & 13 to be exact.

What possible educational benefit can come from bouncing racquetballs and tossing bean bags around? That won't work with "my kids", it will just get them all hyper. You expect me to give racquetballs to a class of 3rd graders?

We all know the importance of crossing midline, of crawling, of vision and the ability "to track" the words on a page and the ability to process the information coming into your brain via your eyes and ears. These simple exercises are a way to simplify all of these separate areas into one, and strengthen them for anyone. Kids, adults, Autistic, stroke impaired, auditory and vision impairment, ADD/ADHD, behavior issues... and so much more. As one teacher put it "I don't really know why (BAVX) works, but for all my kids, it just WORKS!"

If you are a parent, teacher, OT, PT, ST, MT, or any other Therapist, work with stroke victims, in nursing homes, have ADD/ADHD, or simply a hard time focusing and reducing stress at work... you owe it to yourself to look into Bal-a-vis-x! (oh yeah—and sign up for the class!)

THE ZONE— Set to open this fall

The Zone - Ability Awareness Center is scheduled to open October 2009!

Too many things in life are focused on limitations and challenges. The Zone is a place to help "zone in" on possibilities, not disabilities.

With educational events, play groups, support groups, co-op parenting and therapy events, resource centers and so much more, there will be something for everyone at The Zone.

More Info Coming Soon! Keep an eye on this place.
Amazing things will be happening here!
